RCI 2013 Document Competition Winners Recognized in Interface

Raleigh, NC -- RCI, Inc., recognizes the winners of its 2013 Document Competition in the July 2013 issue of Interface, RCI's monthly technical journal. A summary of the competition's first, second, and third-place winners from each category are featured.

The following individuals received first-place honors:

For excellence in the Report Writing category, Joshua J. Summers, REWC, SE, PE, for his entry on the Anchor Bank, Madison, WI (Exterior Façade Evaluation).

For excellence in the Small Roofing/Waterproofing/Exterior Wall Project Documents category for construction valued less than $500,000, Joseph E. Baker, RRC, RRO, for his entry on The Citadel, Byrd Hall, Charleston, SC (Building Envelope Repairs).

For excellence in the Large Roofing/Waterproofing/Exterior Wall Project Documents category for construction valued greater than $500,000, Kamran Farahmandpour, FRCI, RRC, RWC, REWC, for his entry on the Pointe at Lincoln Park Condominium Assoc., Chicago, IL (Exterior Repairs, Phases A & B).

The RCI Document Competition is an annual event organized to recognize members' excellence in roofing, waterproofing, and exterior wall construction project documentation. Winning entrants were recognized during the Annual Awards Luncheon on March 17, 2013, at the 28th RCI International Convention and Trade Show in Orlando, FL. All entries were on display during the Trade Show on March 16 and 17.
