RCI was chartered, in part, to bridge the gap between the seemingly disparate elements of the roofing profession. It is the intent of Interface to connect with these elements, educate and inform about roofing-related topics, establish a common ground for discussion, promote Institute programs, and branch out toward even more people. Interface is circulated monthly to over 3,000 people (nationwide and overseas) including RCI members, specifiers, facility managers, owners, industry contacts, and a growing number of highly placed professionals. Interface is frequently distributed at various trade shows, as well as educational and institutional functions. The articles contained in this publication are intended to provide information that may be useful to members of the Roof Consultants Institute. RCI does not necessarily endorse this information. The reader must evaluate the information in light of the unique circumstances of any particular situation and independently determine its applicability. Entire contents, © RCI.

On the Cover: While modern environmental regulatory requirements have led to increased focus, cold process roofing offers a number of advantages over conventional forms of roofing. This issue will explore the properties and uses of cold process and polymer-modified roofing.
